The Rewards for being a Politically Correct Mass Man

By Robert Crockett

I once saw a picture in one of those Time-Life history books on World War II. You know, the ones with all the black and white Pictures taken from that war. There's one picture in particular that I remember seeing. The picture was of a German Soldier in combat somewhere on the Russian Front. This soldier looked like he was really chugging along at a pretty quick pace. The caption to that picture was obviously jew inspired. It read something to the effect, "The pleasures of being a Nazi Superman were growing thin." What a contrast between that picture and the one that could have been snapped today, where I work.

Things certainly are changing for the better since that picture of that brave German Soldier on the Russian Front. I can only assume that the soldier was in fact brave as well as knowing what we all fight for – our race. That soldier fought, and may have even died, for our race during that war. All the while, my esteemed patriotic fellow Americans chose to bury their heads in the sand and kill their German brothers and sisters. You know the type of American; the go-along, get-along type. Some people call them idiots; others refer to them as lemmings. One thing is for certain about these fellow Americans. I'll never accuse them of having bravery and fortitude when it comes to standing up to the enemies of our White Race.

These fellow Americans were far too busy with their rich luxury homes, country club memberships, and trying to keeping up with their neighbors in obtaining all manner of material goods. They worship the jews like gods and have ignored, for all these years, the perils facing our race. To them, it was always somebody else that had to go to integrated schools, live in mixed neighborhoods, and be discriminated against in both jobs and schools. Never did they believe that they themselves would have to face this peril. In the back of their minds, it could only happen to somebody else. And as long as they kept worshipping the jews, they could continue to exist in stupidity and blindly go about gathering their daily bananas.

What a pleasure it is when a comrade comes across these lost souls – provided that they even have souls. These lost simpletons took no heed as steel jobs, garment jobs, and other manufacturing jobs moved to turd-world countries. But today, it hit home to the technology workers I know. It was announced that outsourcing – that means shipping programming jobs to some shitskin country – would be done in India. I wish I had had a camera to capture the expressions of shock on these people's faces. The standard propaganda went around about the shitskins in India being able to do the same job as American contractors do today – only much, much cheaper. The company has to cut costs, because all the other companies are doing it, and all that. The customers demand value, the market rules the universe, and so on.

I have to say that when a racial comrade comes across this kind of scene, it takes considerable willpower to resist the urge to invite everybody - to gather around, stand, and recite the Pledge of Allegiance. Such scenes do wonders in regard to raising that good old fashioned patriotism – in spades. One only needs a good camera to properly capture that celebration of diversity, that feeling of multicultural unity. My caption for that picture would be, "The pleasures of being a White, brain-dead, multicultural piece-of-shit are most rapidly declining in our society." Har, har, har, har, har...

I kept hearing question after question from these multicultural White Savants. One of these geniuses, pointed out that it is far easier to simply do the programming ourselves instead of having to do four or five times the work, generating a design document for some Indian. This White actually believes that our jew-controlled society values efficiency and saving money rather than the fact that the jews simply hate his White guts. This White can still not understand that jews wish for all Whites to die – regardless of the cost. However, I did not witness any of these dim bulbs lighting up with anything approaching wisdom.

The confusion on the faces of the Whites were apparent. In particular, I asked one woman after the meeting if she was surprised at the announcement on outsourcing. She looked pretty dumbfounded and couldn't give a coherent answer. I told her that I saw the projections on this sort of thing ten years ago. I also told her that people shouldn't be surprised at such news, and that if people would keep up with the news instead of watching the ball-games, then they wouldn't be so surprised when these things come to pass. She went silent, and jewish programming still held her firmly in its grasp.

I wonder just how stupid these Savant types really are. Are they not like drunken sailors on shore leave? They'll stagger about until their pay runs out and then go back to their ships to do their job. U.S. Grant also had a reputation for being a drunk loser before the American Civil War. Grant was a son-of-a-bitch, but he got the job done. If I were a betting man, I wouldn't bet on the White Man being drunk forever. Sooner or later, the booze is going to dry up. What goes around, comes around jew-boy!

White Revolution's Mission Statement

We seek a paradigm shift in our values, a revolutionary worldview in our people, and a fundamental change in the form and focus of our governing bodies. The government of the United States of America, as well as all other formerly White controlled countries, seeks to deny Whites the right to White neighborhoods, White communities, White schools, White associations, and all other cultural tools necessary for the survival of our race. We recognize that so long as the news and entertainment media around the world are controlled by an alien race and their collaborators, who use their power and influence to control public opinion and the electoral process, there is no possibility for Whites to democratically regain control of our own destiny. We will not compromise when it comes to our children's future, or the future of our race and species. We will not allow our people to be pushed towards extinction without pushing back. We seek to secure the existence of our people and a future for White children by creating the opportunity for the establishment of a government which has only the interests of our people in mind when deciding on its foreign and domestic policies.

The purpose of any State should be to protect, promote, and seek to advance the interests of the race, and the guiding principle of the State should be that what is good for the race is good, and what is bad for the race is bad. This is the kind of government which we seek to establish, and which, in fact, we demand for future generations of our people. All other considerations, such as religious differences, specific political orientation, or White sub-racial ethnicity are of secondary importance. We can work out those details and settle those differences after the survival of our race has been assured. What matters now, and what we must make our number one priority, is to save the White race from extinction and to regain control of our destiny as a people. We know that every day we become a smaller and smaller percentage of both the U.S. and the world's population, and this is a situation which must be reversed. Although it is not yet possible or realistic for us to expect to be able to openly oppose our enemies in open combat, or to gain power immediately through violence, we must begin now to educate and organize ourselves and the rest of our people who will be willing to join us in changing the unfortunate and intolerable state of affairs under which we now languish.

I understand as well as anyone how frustrating it is to delay action and to remain legal while our people's situation continues to grow increasingly desperate. Time is short. In fact, our time is so short that we cannot afford to act prematurely and waste the best members of our race to death or imprisonment. There are no second chances for our race at this point. Our generation will see our people either turn the corner towards reaffirmation and rebirth, or slide down the slippery slope towards extinction. We can successfully reach out to more of our people if we remain free and above-ground, both literally and figuratively. There still is some space to maneuver and act within the system by using the First Amendment and our other diminishing, but still useful, rights and freedoms. When some people think of revolution, they think of guns and bombs and hand grenades. But for us, at this stage of the revolution, our weapons of choice are the pen, the leaflet, the keyboard, the videocamera, and every other weapon of mass construction which allows us to reach out to our people and awaken them to the dangers which threaten our very existence. The time may well come when we will communicate to our enemies in a manner which they will find unambiguous, but for now we must lay the foundation and create the support networks which will be necessary for any future endeavors. We must begin with our eyes on our eventual, inevitable victory, and not allow ourselves to become distracted by temporary or unessential concerns. We must, for now, delay gratification, and keep the big picture and our ultimate goal always before our eyes. Discipline, after all, is merely a matter of remembering what it is that we really want.

If what you really want is to help us create a safer, cleaner, healthier, and saner world for White children, and to help our people regain control of our destiny, I hope that you will join us.

We need help from people of all economic levels and professions, from all walks of life, blue collar and white collar, different educational levels, and diverse talents and skills. Your religious background or Nationality or what other organizations you may be a member of doesn't matter. If you are a White man or woman who is a non-drug using heterosexual, and you care about the future of our race, then you are already one of us, whether you know it or not. You might as well go ahead and make it official. And if, because of your personal or professional situation you cannot officially join, your financial support will make our continued efforts on behalf of our race possible, and will be greatly appreciated.

Even before our organization had a name hundreds of White Nationalists contacted me expressing their belief that its inception was necessary for the good of the White race. Even before it was begun, our vision of our ultimate goal was clear. Now we must do what is best for our people, and we can only do so by working together.

Let us Begin!
